Clay County Residents,

The Iowa Department of Public Health has now confirmed the existence of substantial community spread of Covid-19 in the State. While there are no confirmed cases within Clay County, this remains a very fluid situation.

In response to these factors, the Clay County Board of Supervisors are encouraging all residents to use online resources and telephone calls to County Offices rather than in-person visits to any of Clay County Government buildings. The reasons for this are two-fold. First, IDPH and the CDC are strongly encouraging all Citizens to exercise “social distancing” to slow the spread of this infection in communities. Second, IDPH and CDC have identified public spaces and group gatherings as potential transmission points for Covid-19. The Clay County Board of Supervisors believe that the safety of all Clay County residents as well as Clay County staff should be first priority.

There is business that can be conducted with Clay County online. For a full list of services available to you online please visit: www.co.clay.ia.us

If you are unable to complete your business online, please feel free to contact any of our County Offices via telephone and staff will be happy to assist you.

If, as a last resort, you need to conduct business in person at any of our Clay County buildings, please only do so if you are not sick. We must work together as a whole community to protect those most vulnerable to this outbreak and take all precautions possible to slow the spread in our communities.
